Stone washed Percale *

The Percale originates in Egypt, where the best cotton in the world is grown, and then woven in Italy with its unrivalled tradition in spinning and textiles. Combining finest cotton with the highest levels of craftsmanship creates a soft, light fabric with incredible resistance. The fabric then undergoes a special wash that gives it a crinkled appearance. The purity of the cotton lets the body breathe freely, providing even the youngest children with a restful night's sleep. Fully hypoallergenic, resistant to the harshest wash cycles and exceptionally long-lasting.

Stone washed linen *

One of the oldest textile fibres known to man, stone-washed linen has traditionally been subject to a special washing process to get the crumpled look. The crumpled look and its characteristic irregular weave endow it with great tactile and visual impact. Fresh in summer and snug in winter, stone washed linen is hypo-allergenic, resistant to the harshest wash cycles and does not need to be ironed: the beauty of a defect-free fibre.

Satin

Satin is a fabric structure that gives shine and softness. Its distinguishing feature is its elegance. Bright coloured notes with nuances make this fabric particularly suitable for numerous washes.

The satin used by Cassina is a 100% natural cotton.

*no need for ironing
